HELPING HAND.

M. E. CHURCH

D. W. HUSSONG, PASTOR

There has been a great deal of sickness through our charge, but God has been very merciful to our people for to our knowledge only one has been claimed by the hand of Death since we came on the work in October, and that one had "fought a good fight, had finished her course" in a ripe old age and was ready to be called to her "reward in glory."

Though we sorrow at the parting we rejoice in her triumph.

We rejoice also at the heroic efforts of our afflicted people to support the cause of Christ and the ministry.

Many hands make work light and each one doing a little makes it easy to clear up any deficiency that might occur, also you win the esteem of your fellow members as well as the pastor and thus working hand in hand with shoulders to the wheel we roll the "Old Gospel Chariot" up the hill of time toward the Pearly Gate where we all expect to alight in that great day that is coming.

He who does his part here will not be like the man in the story who dreamed he died and went to Heaven and on being assigned to his place complained because it was not as good as the mansion of his washer woman. St. Peter told him he was sorry but it was the best they could build out of the material he had sent up for it. There is a moral in this story that is worthy of our best thought.

When Jesus was questioned about the tribute money He said, "Render unto Caesar that which is Caesar's and to God that which is God's. We learn by this He wants only His own and does not seek by proselytizing or otherwise to obtain more than His own. It was said in old time "Thou shalt not steal" and again "Thou shalt not covet anything that is thy neighbor's."

When folks in this part of the country get used to a little northern weather they won't need to hug their fire places so close, but can come out to church on Sunday as well as to do their feeding and wood cutting during the week. Strange isn't it how the Lord's work takes second place? "Let your light SO shine" etc.

Our appointments: Saturday night, January 22, and Sunday morning, January 23, at Dry Creek church and Sunday evening 6:45 at the Valley church.

We hope to see your pleased faces again and may God bless our coming together.
